

Pithy comments of Thomas Sowell

Dr. Thomas Sowell is a Senior Fellow at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University. Born in NC, but raised in Harlem. Educated at Harvard, Columbia and Chicago. He is an economist who has taught at Cornell, Brandeis, The Urban Institution, UCLA, and now at Stanford.

A photograph of Dr. Thomas Sowell, an older man with grey hair and glasses, wearing a brown suit jacket, a light-colored sweater, a white shirt, and a striped tie. He is looking slightly to the right of the camera.

Too much of what is called "education" is little more than an expensive isolation from reality.

- Dr. Thomas Sowell

A smaller photograph of Dr. Thomas Sowell, wearing the same attire as in the top image, looking towards the camera.

"The welfare state is the oldest con game in the world. First you take people's money away quietly and then you give some of it back to them flamboyantly."

~Thomas Sowell

It is hard to imagine a more stupid or more dangerous way of making decisions than by putting those decisions in the hands of people who pay no price for being wrong.

"One of the consequences of such notions as "entitlements" is that people who have contributed nothing to society feel that society owes them something, apparently just for being nice enough to grace us with their presence."

-Thomas Sowell

Fair2012.com

"I have never understood why it is "greed" to want to keep the money you've earned, but not greed to want to take somebody else's money"

-Thomas Sowell

"Much of the social history of the Western world, over the past three decades, has been a history of replacing what worked with what sounded good."

- Thomas Sowell

